

PRESS RELEASE

Americana Safety Awarded Consulting Contract

Las Vegas, NV, September 27, 2016. Americana Safety is pleased to announce that it was awarded an annual safety consulting contract with Roseman University of Health Sciences for their 3 campuses in Utah and Nevada.

Dr. DeMaria, president & CEO, will manage the contract and associates Samuel A. Lybarger, CSP, and Mark Towers, CSP, who will perform the quarterly workplace safety assessment audits.

Roseman University of Health Sciences consists of Colleges of Pharmacy, Nursing, Medicine and Dental Medicine.

According to Dr. DeMaria, Americana Safety provides occupational health & safety and engineering compliance consultations to general and construction industry companies and specialty trades. Our client base includes a cross section of local, regional, national and international companies, large and small.

The primary benefits to our business clients are protecting them from exposure to embarrassing regulatory citations, costly penalties, work stoppages, and personal injury law suits that could tarnish their company's reputation and future.

Our associates are highly experienced professionals. For more than 20 years, Americana Safety has assisted businesses with workplace safety assessment audits to ensure regulatory compliance. These benefits have succeeded in ensuring a less costly business practice, and a safer operation and workforce.
