

PRESS RELEASE

Americana Safety Launches New Responsive Website

Las Vegas, NV, September 21, 2015. Americana Safety has launched its new modern & responsive website featuring enhanced technology and leading-edge website design to better reflect Americana Safety's position as a global leader in workplace safety compliance and expert witness solutions.

This new custom designed website was developed by Snelling Web Development and features a dynamic, responsive design that automatically adapts to maintain its ease-of-use, clear navigation, and to display properly on any device, whether you're using your iPhone, Android, tablet, or desktop computer.

Responsive websites are mobile-optimized websites that automatically adapt to look great to customers viewing on smart phones, tablets, and PC monitors. Responsive web design allows you to have one website that looks great on all types of devices, maintaining a look that is consistent, modern, clean, and easy to view. Google & Bing officially recommend responsive & mobile-optimized websites and gives them prominence in web searches.

Americana Safety has always prided itself in having the most professional looking, technologically advanced, and customer friendly website available. In the past, this approach has provided our clients with a sense of trust and confidence in our abilities. This new website will provide the same for potential clients of Americana Safety that are searching for the very best in workplace safety compliance and expert witness solutions.
